BA in Dance

For students who want rigorous studio practice paired with a strong liberal arts education. Performance + choreography emphases, plus theory, history, kinesiology, and production. (120 s.h. // 61 in the major)

Dance Pedagogy and Instruction Track

Dance majors who have a particular interest in the art and practice of teaching dance as passion and/or profession may complete the dance pedagogy and instruction track at the same time as they are completing their degree requirements. (23-24 s.h. in track)

BFA in Dance

For students with advanced technique, exceptional creativity, and professional promise. Immersion in performance/technique + choice of choreography, pedagogy, or dance studies. Culminates with senior project in choreography, performance, or research. (120 s.h. // 86 in the major)

Dance Minor

15 s.h. minor for students who wish to continue their dance studies while pursuing other degrees.

A supplemental application is required for all programs. The department admits all students to the Dance Minor and Dance BA. The Dance BFA requires an audition. All students are encouraged to attend a Hawkeye Dance Day to take classes with professors, tour our facilities, and meet current students.

DANCE WITH US!

The Department of Dance is a close-knit community that supports your academic and artistic growth as one holistic goal. Our faculty are deeply invested in each individual's development and success, challenging students to achieve their goals while prioritizing their well-being along the way.

All students have multiple opportunities each semester to present their own works and to perform in works by faculty, graduate students, and guest artists. Students regularly collaborate in the creative process with faculty and visiting professionals, gaining valuable preparation for the demands of today's dance field. UI dance alumni are successful because the curriculum includes such preparation, nurtures the dancer as a whole person, and supports their steps as emerging leaders in their fields.

A Day as a Dance Major

Dance major academic schedules are filled with required and elective classes for the BA or BFA in dance including: classical, contemporary, and multicultural movement techniques; credits earned through performance projects; dance-making in choreography, improvisation, and digital arts; dance history, theory, and pedagogy; dance kinesiology and anatomy.

8:00 - 9:20	Academic classes or sleep!
9:30 - 12:20	Ballet and Contemporary Movement Practices
12:30 - 5:20	Dance and academic classes
5:30 - 10:00	Rehearsals and studying
